Your experience with AHEC live, in-person courses will look different for the foreseeable future as we navigate the current COVID-19 pandemic and related restrictions. Our commitment to you is that we will continue to make proactive decisions that are grounded in safety. We are taking the following steps at our events to help protect the health and well-being of our team and clients: making hand sanitizer available, limiting course size, contactless sign-in process, social distanced seating, and requiring face masks or coverings.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Purpose: This course will review core material evaluated by any of the various basic and advanced nurse management certification examinations such as Nurse Executive, Nurse Management, and Nurse Leader. It covers such topics as leadership effectiveness, operational structures, strategic planning, policy, and professional models of practice.

At the conclusion of this program, each participant will be able to:

- Prepare participants for the nursing administration/management review exam.
- Develop a test plan strategy based on the review course.
- Review nursing leadership competencies and their application to practice.
- Identify strengths and areas of opportunity in preparing for examination.

INSTRUCTOR

Dr. Megan O'Connor, DNP, RN, NE-BC has over 15 years of experience in medical-surgical, critical care, and logistics nursing. She is a seasoned nurse leader, having held nursing management positions in medicine, psychiatry, observation and logistics. Currently, Megan holds the position of Patient Services Manager of the Patient Logistics Center with UNC Health Care, where she has administrative responsibility for internal and external patient movement. Dr. O'Connor received her BSN, MSN and DNP from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, as well Bachelor Degrees in Biology and Psychology. She currently serves as adjunct faculty for Durham Technical Community College and Capella University. Primary areas of interest that have resulted in publication or presentation include communication, interdisciplinary teamwork, organizational culture, and gaming.
